LOIE AND JIM MARESH, Founders

Loie and Jim moved their family to their Dundee farm in 1959 and started a legacy that continues today with three generations involved in the operation of the business. In addition to growing and selling grapes from their vineyard, they opened the Red Barn Tasting Room in 1987 to sell their own wines. The greatest reward was not monetary, but rather the many enduring friendships formed over the years.

THE WINEMAKER

Raised on his family farm, Jim Maresh worked in the vineyards from an early age, learning from his grandparents Jim and Loie Maresh, his mother Martha, and her husband Steve Mikami. His father Fred Arterberry made acclaimed Pinot Noirs in the 1980's. Jim's first winemaking lessons used grapes he gleaned from the family vineyard. As he learned he was mentored by neighbor winemakers including John Paul of Cameron and John Thomas of Thomas Winery.

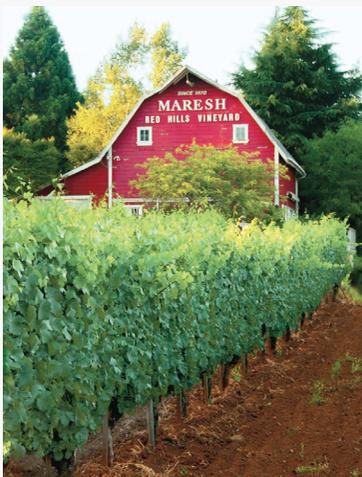

In 2005 Jim founded Arterberry Maresh, honoring his father's earlier Arterberry label and his Maresh family history. In 2011 his parents founded Powell Hill Winery - Jim is their winemaker.

THE WINES

Jim Maresh creates complex and layered Pinot Noirs with pure flavors and silken tannins. Elegant and sophisticated, they enjoy a long life, aging beautifully. His Chardonnay is typically full, bright and complex with rich aromatics and flavors. Jim only makes wine from the glorious Dundee Hills fruit of Maresh Vineyard and a few surrounding vineyards.

Food & Wine: "gorgeous purity of fruit and minerality"

Wine Advocate: "vibrancy, aromatic complexity and sheer drinkability"

THE VINEYARD

MARESH RED HILLS VINEYARD

First planted in 1970 and the fifth oldest vineyard in Oregon, Maresh is non-irrigated and farmed organically in the Dundee Hills. The fruit is highly sought after by wineries in Oregon. Within the vineyard Jim Maresh has selected sites of predominantly old-vine, own-rooted and non-irrigated Pinot Noir and Chardonnay vines for the wines of Arterberry Maresh and Powell Hill.

Wine Advocate calls Maresh Vineyard "a veritable rue des grande cru"

By signing I certify that I (and the recipient if applicable) am at least 21 years of age and give permission to Maresh Red Barn to keep my credit card on file and charge it for wine club shipments.

I agree to fulfill the one year commitment (2 shipments) and my membership will continue after my initial commitment until I inform Maresh Red Barn in writing.

I agree that I have the right to cancel my membership. The cancellation notice must be made in writing and must be received two weeks before the next club shipment. Early cancellation will result in a fee of $20.
