

Spring 2022 Wine Club

Hello from everyone at the Maresh Red Barn Tasting Room! We are pleased to offer our Spring wine club collection and hope you enjoy it. Thank you customers and friends! We appreciate your support. We hope to see you sometime soon in the Red Barn tasting room where safety and fine wine are our focus. Take care - From all of us at the Maresh Red Hills Vineyard - Martha, Steve, and Jim

THE WINES

1 bottle

2019 Arterberry Maresh

Dundee Hills Pinot Noir $39

Wine Advocate 96 points

The 2019 Dundee Hills Chardonnay was matured for 12 months in barrel and six months in stainless steel. It has a pure perfume of white orchard fruits laced with beeswax, almonds and flint. The palate is satiny and energetic from its linear acidity and expansive, gently honeyed layers, and it finishes long and youthfully shimmering. This is an excellent candidate for some extended time in the cellar. - Erin Brooks, Wine Advocate

1 bottle

2017 Arterberry Maresh

Old Vines Pinot Noir $59

VINOUS 96 points

Glistening scarlet. A highly complex bouquet evokes red berry and cherry preserves, along with building Asian spice, rose oil and smoky mineral flourishes. Shows fine delineation and seamless texture, offering concentrated, spice-tinged Chambord, cherry, cola and spice cake flavors that pick up a strong rose pastille nuance with air. Finishes extremely long and pure, with fine-grained tannins providing framework and gentle grip to lingering red fruit, five-spice powder and savory herb notes. 70% of this fruit comes from the estate Maresh vineyard and the other 30% is from the neighboring Weber vineyard; the vast majority of the vines were planted in the late 1970s. - Josh Reynolds, Vinous Media.

2018 Arterberry Maresh

Winemakers Reserve Pinot Noir $79

VINOUS 95 points

Full, bright-rimmed red. Potent, mineral-accented cherry and red berry aromas are complemented by suggestions of five-spice powder, cola and candied flowers. Silky, energetic and alluringly sweet, offering vibrant raspberry, cherry pie and rose pastille flavors that show superb detail and spicy back-end lift. Deftly balanced and focused on the incisive finish, which is framed by discreet, polished tannins. - Josh Reynolds, Vinous Media

2018 Arterberry Maresh

Maresh Vineyard Pinot Noir $69 x2 = $138

Wine Advocate 95+ points

The 2018 Pinot Noir Maresh Vineyard is an incredible wine. It opens slowly to an arresting perfume of dusty earth, dried rose petals, tea leaves, licorice and amaro with a wealth of bright red berry fruit at the core. The palate is elegant, supple and juicy, with an expansive fan of layered, spicy flavors and a very long finish. It's hard to resist now, but it will have more to offer with time in bottle.

2018 Arterberry Maresh

Weber Vineyard Pinot Noir $69

Wine Advocate 97 points

The 2018 Pinot Noir Weber Vineyard comes from Pommard clone vines planted in 1983. It features pure aromas of cranberry and black raspberry with botanical and floral layers. The palate is seamless and complex, with powerful flavors, a silty texture and bright acidity, finishing with layer after layer of sweet berry fruit. - Erin Brooks, Wine Advocate
